Player Spotlight: Brandy Drozd (Trap and Skeet)

Brandy Drozd competes with the Trap and Skeet Club and also has been shooting international skeet on a world level. She travels to many different countries several times per year as a member of the USA National Team. She just brought home the gold in Granada, Spain, making her the 2014 World Champion in Ladies International Skeet!

Q & A with Brandy:

Q: What is your year and major?

A: I'm Class of 2016 and my major is Biology

Q: How long have you been shooting? How did you get started?

A: After watching my brother shoot for four years, I followed him and started shooting at the age of eight when I entered the Brazos Valley 4-H Sportsman's club. My Dad took me when I wanted to practice and taught me everything he knew.

Q: Which event do you compete in shotgun shooting sports?

A: By the age of twelve I was ready to challenge myself more and decided to start shooting international skeet. This is where I stayed and is what I primarily compete in today.

Q: How often do you practice?

A: My Dad, along with the help of my Mom, continues to take at least three hours out of his day multiple days a week and sometimes everyday in order to let me practice. My parents have been the largest factor in my success by far.

Q: What are your goals?

A: Looking forward, my goals are the 2016 Olympic Games in Rio, but also to graduate from A&M and enter medical school and I would be ecstatic with either path!

Q: What are some of your biggest achievements so far?

A: My biggest accomplishments in shooting are:

- 2 Time Junior Olympic Gold
- 2 Time Junior National Gold
- 2012 Tucson World Cup Bronze
- 2012 Slovenia World Cup Finals Silver
- 2013 ACUI International Skeet and American Skeet lady national champ
- 2013 USA Spring Selection Gold
- 2014 Munich, Germany World cup Silver
- 2014 Granada, Spain Gran Prix Gold
- 2014 Granada, Spain World Championship Gold and Olympic Quota

Aggies-Horns Challenge!

This marks the inaugural Aggies-Horns Challenge! Texas A&M and the University of Texas Sport Clubs Programs have come together to compete year-round to see which program is the premiere collegiate sport clubs program in Texas. This will be a points-based program where the club that wins a designated competition will win a point for their university. The 2014-2015 challenge will include 27 different sport clubs competing throughout the year. There will also be a community service piece to the program. The club that brings in the most ounces during the November Canned Food Drive will receive a point. The Aggies-Horns Challenge will be fun and competitive, revitalizing a long history of school rivalry.

November Canned Food Drive!

Next month Sport Clubs will begin their 5th annual Canned Food Drive benefitting the Brazos Valley Food Bank! From November 3rd – November 26th clubs will be bringing in canned food to try and beat the 2,100 cans donated in 2013. The winner will be decided based on the total weight of the cans brought in. This year, however, there is an added challenge between A&M and Texas. Whichever school brings in more ounces will receive a point towards the Aggies-Horns Challenge! Food can be donated in the Sport Clubs office in the Student Rec Center.

Meet the Executive Committee: John Bundren

Howdy! My name is John Bundren and it is a privilege for me to serve on the Sport Clubs Executive Committee this year! I am a graduate student in the Professional Program in Accounting seeking a Masters degree in Finance this spring. My involvement with Sport Clubs began my freshman year in 2010. Originally from Frisco, Texas, I loved to compete and played football throughout high school. When I came to A&M, I had no plans of joining any kind of team but stumbled across the Men's Volleyball Club at an open house. I went to try outs on a whim with little experience other than playing recreational sand volleyball for several years. Despite having very little knowledge of the game, they took me hoping to develop me into a solid player. The past four years on the volleyball team has given me a chance to compete, make lifelong friends, and have leadership opportunities. The Sport Clubs Association provided the avenue for this to happen, and I am grateful for the opportunity to give back this year!
